The Music Tree Christmas Mazadou Nayelwa is a special Christmas celebration at a Zanzibar orphanage. The event is organized by the Music Tree Foundation, a non-profit organization that provides music education and instruments to underprivileged children in Zanzibar. The event features live music, dancing, games, and a visit from Santa Claus.

The Music Tree Foundation was founded in 2006 by Zanzibar musician Maulidi Omari. Omari started the foundation after seeing the lack of music education and instruments available to underprivileged children in Zanzibar. The foundation's mission is to provide music education and instruments to these children, so that they can develop their musical talents and reach their full potential.

The Music Tree Christmas Mazadou Nayelwa is one of the foundation's main events. The event is held every year at the Mazadou Nayelwa

Orphanage in Zanzibar. The orphanage is home to over 100 children, many of whom have lost their parents to HIV/AIDS. The event is a special opportunity for the children to celebrate Christmas and to experience the joy of music.

The event features live music from local musicians, as well as dancing and games. The children also get to meet Santa Claus and receive gifts. The event is a festive and joyful occasion, and it brings a lot of happiness to the children at the orphanage.

The Music Tree Christmas Mazadou Nayelwa is a special event that makes a difference in the lives of underprivileged children in Zanzibar. The event provides the children with a chance to celebrate Christmas and to experience the joy of music. The event also raises awareness of the Music Tree Foundation and its mission to provide music education and instruments to underprivileged children in Zanzibar.
